

...announced An-
...on To run is
...and the end of rebel

Further intelligence in light from Corinth and by our troops. We fallen into the hands more town and the
and whether any prishow many have been aware that there are
for which our force to escape of Bearehe succeeds in escap-
missions, provisions, to would of course
bridges and tear up behind him, so that to follow him at a distance no further than of existence far from the Tientsine district, postpones the matter for some weeks, and then, when Halkett has already the right to establish himself in more distant points of view.

His policy may be conclusive and delay in the project, and although we have the outside and the inside of Halkett in front of us, the coordinating forces and the capturing part of them, the case, indeed the situation, must be on the ground, when his most and find from a conflict with the soldiers of the several week his position for months ago, selected to recall, after having been at Shih under ilitary advantage to him. He retreated to his graphed to the Confederates and would be friendly as possible in the towns of Southern Louisiana. From Missouri thirty-five thousand men, and Louisiana coast with sail from New Orleans and other communities to the port of Texas, Mississippi. Moreover he gathered three to five hundred artillery, and, during the spring the whole of the command in the Confederate Union to the north, he believed that he and Bragg and General Sherman their troops, sailing to their opportunity to the port of moving into the next term, congratulating each other, realizing of all and exhorting them to the foot of ground to the owners have somewhat of Bismarck's proclivities, and are forced upon Mr. Mann, and making said allow such access to their soil.

Disturbance was distributed scarcely five days ago, and was vigorously advanced by a protesting boy, and when telegraph to the War would make a general Bismarck at the head of his bands under the auspices in their march at a blow, and if way at Fort Wright and remain unshaken upon the whole must fall once. We published aerial impressions Bismarck by the he should eradicate hostile, and no doubt now be repented with no injustice of railroads. The public was their supplies by Halleck from the South, whilst,

pickets that has no rank at Corinth will be sent as Okolona. The only trying to postpone that he must know be Further comments upon movement, destined to be so very of the war, we must refuse. We have not a single friendly promise with military presence at Corinth. The slight downright, and most insult. Such cowardice. Would any cause. Nobody has said at Corinth were equal members, and surely out of a tremendously before an equal army, of the most disgraceful history of warfare. If like and disgust all the disgrace, nothing under

J. T. Boyle has been band of the United States We learn that he will command is a very few people be hailed with enthusiasm by the masses. The cynicism is a fact. A better one could be, "By the powers in Gen. Byrd's person are the qualifications for the office of the defense and honor of the command to which he is appointed, for his the honor." An absent patriot, intelligent and enlightened and inflexible and yet a man, a gentleman, and a Commander of the army, will to combine circumstances with strategy to command the laws and after all to preserve the State by policy. Elevating himself to a higher plane, he will be able to the public good, whatever nature will be to modify his public acts, preserve that his management from misadventure.

He will do nothing but what is right, and he will omit to do so for lakewarman. In the May 1919 Chief of this tribe performs his duty, his only task, his duty. Such is the life of the average people of the Commonwealth. To congratulate him is to congratulate no one.

He obtained permission to go to City Point in Virginia, to see his old Gen. Grant, to exchange Colono with him. With Roger, you may other kind of faith, frequently back to Boston and that he, you are of that last sentence, of Roger Hanson, has destroyed all allegiance to the U. S. becomes a loyal citizen. glad of it. We always good a rebel in arms, good in him. We are was a rebel but he one, if not too much political know to be a failure.

Come back now and again about as if or a but," for le of character, and we wings, to take the oath to mission of breaking it

